Construction Work Begins Immediately

Several thousand square miles of unsettled land centred around Primrose lake will be the site of a huge R.C.A.F. bombing and gunnery range.

Defence Minister Brooke Claxton announced to the House of Commons Thursday that an agreement had been reached with the provinces of Alberta and Saskatchewan for establishing the range, estimated to cost $14,000,000.

The area to be used will lie east of the Northern Alberta Railways, stretching about 115 miles from east to west and 40 miles from north to south. The possibility of almost indefinite extension north when additional space is required was mentioned. Air force officials said the huge area is required because modern jet aircraft and the long range of their power, including rockets and canons will result in an increase in the danger zone. Various forms of air weapons including particularly air-to-air rockets will be evaluated.

Although the range site and the surrounding territory is not settled it is criss-crossed by trap lines. The air force will pay trappers for their property rights on trap lines that have to be disbanded.

Runways, operation buildings, barrack blocks and other structures will be built at the cost of $14,000,000. Construction will begin immediately.

NEW POSTAL RULE AFFECTS ALL OPEN LETTERS

Due to new postal regulations now in affect, unsealed letters must be stamped with two cent stamps.

The Way of Peace

While Communists in Russia and in Canada cry "Peace", they obviously want only one kind of peace. That is the kind that leaves the world in the arms of Russian slavery, with the attendant evils of firing squads and Siberian exile.

The Russian government, represented in our cartoon by the Bear, may be ready to sit down at the conference table and he may not. Certainly, he could, if he wished, quickly ban the threat of war from the scene. But so far he has indicated only a desire to gobble up all the peace-loving nations, and in fact wipe out the hopes of peace.

Grace and Justice

Almost from the earliest days of Christianity the symbol of faith has been the Christ on the Cross. Some branches of the faith have this picture vividly portrayed in small and large crucifixes. But to all who hold the name of Jesus dear to their hearts, He represents the ultimate of sacrifice.

How could a righteous God be just and merciful to sinful man? Not by ignoring sin, because that would not be just. Not by meting out the penalty of a lost eternity to every sinner, because there would then be no chance of reconciliation, nor opportunity for worship, no sweet communion with the Creator.

But God, as one member of the Trinity, was just in exacting the penalty for sin and merciful in that His Son, Jesus Christ, "bore the penalty for our sins on the tree." The soul that would avail himself of both the grace and justice of Almighty God must accept the Sacrifice of Jesus Christ, second person in the Trinity, as his own, for the salvation of himself.

Then the third person, the Holy Spirit, will unite the penitent sinner to his God in the joy of day-to-day worship and fellowship. Such is the miracle of man's salvation.

Two Years In Retrospect

On Nov. 15, 1948, the Right Hon. Louis St. Laurent succeeded the Right Hon. W. L. Mackenzie King as prime minister of Canada.

During this short period of 28 months the new prime minister has enhanced both his own and his government's record by an imposing list of achievements.

Canada has reached adult nationhood. Newfoundland has become the tenth province, thus extending the eastern limits of our country to the farthest reaches set by the Fathers of Confederation. The Canadian Parliament now has power over the BNA act, and the Supreme Court of Canada is now the final Court of Appeal in all Canadian cases.

Our country has played an active part in the organization of the United Nations and was first to set up a special military force to back up the UN in a military way. A $5,000,000,000 defence budget in three years will strengthen us in case of attack.

Canada is now the largest trading nation in proportion to its population. At the same time thousands of new immigrants are coming here steadily to take their place with older Canadians. High levels of employment and high farm and labor incomes are the order of the day. Except for the U.S.A., we have the highest standard of living in the world.

Advances in social security with higher old-age pensions, a new $170 million National Health program, increased family allowances and completion of the biggest housing construction program of history under the National Housing Act make Canada a better place in which to live.

No wonder a recent Gallup Popular Opinion poll showed the majority of Canadians strongly in favor of the prime minister and his party. Support of the Liberal party by the people of Canada is undiminished.

A Lesson In Socialism

By T. W. PUE

Some time ago I decried the system of keeping school students ignorant of their marks in school. I pointed out this was a mark of the trend towards the socialist state so that no man or woman can rise above his fellows. Every students' mentality is to be kept in rigid check regardless of the natural desire of boys and girls and men and women to excel in some section of studies or sport.

Apparently, down in Yonkers, New York, the teachers are old-fashioned and actually and boldly tell their students what marks they make in their examinations. Not only that, but one teacher has the courage to use this system to teach the fallacy of communism!

T. W. PUE

Here is what he says:

As a teacher in the public schools, I find that the socialist-communist idea of taking "from each according to his ability," and giving "to each according to his need" is now generally accepted without question by most pupils. In an effort to explain the fallacy in this theory, I sometimes try this approach with my pupils:

When one of the brighter or harder-working pupils makes a grade of 95 on a test, I suggest that I take away 20 points and give them to a student who has made only 55 points on his test. Thus each would contribute according to his ability and — since both would have a passing mark — each would receive according to his need.

After I have juggled the grades of all the other pupils in this fashion, the result is usually a "common ownership" grade of between 75 and 80 — the minimum needed for passing, or for survival. Then I speculate with the pupils as to the probable results if I actually used the socialistic theory for grading papers.

First, the highly productive pupils — and they are always a minority in school as well as in life — would soon lose all incentive for producing. Why strive to make a high grade if part of it is taken from you by "authority" and given to someone else?

Second, the less productive pupils — a majority in school as elsewhere — would, for a time, be relieved of the necessity to study or to produce. This system would continue until the high producers had sunk — or had been driven down — to the level of the lower producers. At that point, in order for anyone to survive, the "authority" would have no alternative but to begin a system of compulsory labor and punishments against even the low producers.

Finally I return the discussion to the ideas of freedom and enterprise — the market economy — where each person has freedom of choice, and is responsible for his own decisions and welfare. Gratifyingly enough, most of my pupils then understand what I mean when I explain that socialism — even in a democracy — will eventually result in a living-death for all except the "authorities" and a few of their favorite lackeys.

Wool and Wheat

The price of wool on world markets has risen most dramatically during the past year. Raw wool in the grease in October 1949 was quoted at $1.01 a pound in New York. The same wool was recently quoted at $3.55 a pound.

While the housewife digs deeper to buy enough for hubby's sox, wool growers of Australia, New Zealand and South Africa are cashing in on these rising prices. They are probably today the richest farmers in the world. But the prices of prairie wheat have been and still are strictly controlled. Far from cashing in on the rise in prices that has taken place in the past five years our prairie wheat growers, as everybody now understands and believes have lost vast sums of money, to the extent that many in Alberta, having suffered a 1950 crop failure, are in serious financial straits.

Why in times of rising markets for all goods and commodities the world over should the prairie wheat growers be the only producers to be deprived of the opportunity of enjoying worldwide rising prices, as they are still deprived under the low maximum prices set by the International Wheat Agreement. Surely something is wrong. This merits the careful consideration of our Dominion Government representatives.

Voice of the People

"VOX POPULI, VOX DEI"

SAMARITAN UNNOTICED

Dear Sir—Every time I read this Voice column people are belly-aching. It's always some man complaining about his wife or a wife knocking her husband or some boy hates his girl friend. But what happens when something kind and fine happens, like that fellow in your paper a little while ago who offered one of his eyes that a stranger might see? Nothing happens! Not a word out of you gripers when someone does something nice.

FOR LOVE AND PEACE

Dear Sir—These troubled times could be made much better if people would only concentrate on the power of love instead of trying to destroy human life. If all men would love their wives truly and concentrate on making that love the main event of their lives, all the world's troubles would soon melt away, for a real lover has to have time for love.

Edmonton. J. A . D.

CHOICE OF CHRIST

Dear Sir—A Voicer asks "how can I know which the 256 religions is right?" What is fundamentally right is not a matter of choice of the many so-called religions. Rather it is a choice of Christ, as the "one and only Saviour." All other choices are secondary.

OLDSTERS AT 43?

Dear Sir—What on earth do employers mean by saying that a man at the age of 43 is too old to work in a factory or other industry? It's hard to understand, yet that's what they think in some parts of Alberta. They prefer kids of 17 or 18 even to experienced, strong and healthy men in their forties. Is a man supposed to just bury his head in the ground at that age?

Redwater. MRS. ANNA L.

HE'S LEERY

Dear Sir—I was interested in your article about the Farmers' Union of Alberta. I'm from the east and I don't mind saying the article caused some discussion in my family as we in the east have always been leery of those radical Alberta movements.

BEER PLEBISCITE?

'DISEASE AND CURE'

Dear Sir—A veteran asked in a recent Voice letter why we always seem to have wars under Liberal administrations. That's easy Whenever economy begins slipping under the Grits and prices begin to drop for the benefit of us poor peasants, they look around for a war to create an emergency. This keeps them in power and keeps prices up — two things which Liberals love. The only solution is to kick them all out.

WHERE'S JOHNNY?

Dear Sir—Would you please through your paper try and locate a young man about 17 that was in the accident on the bus coming from Nelson, B.C., on August 16 last year.

I believe they called him Johnny. He had one foot in a cast. If Johnny reads this will he please get in touch with me?

Atom-Powered 'Cobalt Bomb' New Weapon Against Cancer

By KENNETH LAMB
British United Press Staff Writer

REGINA, Sask. — (BUP) — The 25,000,000-volt betatron, the atom-powered "cobalt bomb" and the fast-breeding hamster were earmarked today for leading roles in cancer research at the Universities of Manitoba and Saskatchewan.

The betatron has been used in treating cancer patients at Saskatoon, Sask., for some time. Scientists said that results so far indicated it would be useful in treating certain forms of deep-seated cancer.

The "cobalt bomb" will be operating in Sasaktoon soon. The core of the 50-gram bomb is being prepared at the Chalk River, Ont., atomic establishment. Researchers said it had as much radiation power as 1,500 grams of radium. They compared that with four grams now used by Canada's largest radium unit.

A crack Saskatchewan University research team including Dr. Harold Johns and Dr. C. C. Burkell, is experimenting with high-voltage radiations on advanced cancer cases. In another project, Dr. T. P. Ting is studying biological effects of radiation on living cells.

Dr. Rudolph, Altschul and Dr. E. Y. Spencer are studying the effect on experimental animals of 7 - ketocholesterol, a substance closely related to the cholesterol which is present in large amounts in the human body and which is structurally similar to carcinogens, chemical compounds known to cause cancer in animals.

Dr. L. B. Jaques is studying the amounts of heparin in the blood of leukemia and radiation sickness in victims before and after treatment with ntrogen mustard which helps control Hodgkins disease and silmilar conditions. The substance heparin delays blood clotting.

At the General Hospital in Regina, Sask., Dr. J. D. Stephen is continuing research on lung cancer which he started in Britain. From 1944-47 Stephen served as pathologist in a British army medical team in the Gold Coast and British Somaliland. He published a survey of the relative nutrition of native and British troops.

Industrial statistics in Canada show workers depend on eyesight more than any other sense to earn a living. The figures: eyesight, 8.7%; sound, 7%; smell, 3.5%; touch, 1.5%; and taste, 1%.

INTER-CITY RIVALS

Calgarians Told Need Binoculars In Edmonton

CALGARY. — (BUP) — Magistrate I. F. Fitch displayed unjudicial bias here when he faced a meeting of Calgary and Edmonton Junior Chamber of Commerce members with a speech designed to fan traditional rivalry between the two cities.

With tongue in cheek, the magistrate gave the opinions he had formed of Edmonton in a recent visit.

"Its so spread out," he said of Alberta's capital city, "that I suggest you take binoculars to see across the streets, and a telephone to speak to your next door neighbor."

Several street names provided a basis for further jibes. He suggested that Peace Avenue was mis-named because, "There is no peace in Edmonton."

Yukon Avenue in Edmonton was probably the most appropriately named, he said, because it was difficult to tell where Edmonton ended and the Yukon began.

The remarks were returned in kind by visitors from the oil-rich Edmonton area. One remarked that, "Edmonton has the oil, and Calgary has the gas."

Tumbling Exercise Hard On The Neck

BOYLE. — During a physical training class last week, Clifton Westey, while tumbling, fell on his neck and suffered a strain for a number of days.

The Warren Student's Union are having a dance on April 27 and wish everyone to be present. How about everyone giving our local school good support.

Visiting the Deeprose family over the week-end were Mr. and Mrs. Wilki from Clinton. Mr. Welkie was a former teacher from Boyle.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Clarke and their baby daughter Romona of Lac la Biche, spent the week-end at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. Devernychuk.

The Boyle Warren school will show the progress they have made in their music and drama classes during this term in the Dreamland theatre April 19. The classes are from elementary grades to high school.

We wish Mrs. B. Semeniuk every success after her operation and a very good recuperation.

10,000 Immigrants in Halifax Enroute to New Homes On Last Lap of Long Journey

By TED SHIELDS
British United Press Staff Writer

HALIFAX, N.S.—(BUP)—A network of dockside passages and ramps helps immigrants move through the gateway to Canada in jig-time.

After months or years of saving, hoping, praying, sometimes in concentration camps, sometimes in the war-blasted ruins of their homes, the new Canadians find the last step of their long journey is over while they're still looking for the queue.

Last month, more than 10,000 immigrants came ashore at Halifax and set off for their new homes. The efficiency with which young and old, representatives of a dozen nations, speaking two dozen tongues, were moved from their ships through the formalities of entering a new homeland is the pride of immigration, customs and port officials here.

Designed by CNR engineers and later taken over by the National Harbors Board, the dockside immigration lay-out is set up so not a step is wasted.

A new Canadian picks up his hand-luggage, usually a knapsack, and walks up the gangway from the top deck of his ship to the second floor of the long pier building As he enters the well-lighted, clean waiting room he receives a package of cigarettes or tobacco, and leaves his hand baggage in a wire cage under his initial.

Usually with only a brief wait, he is called to the port medical officer and cleared for health. This leads him to another waiting room, where 10 immigration officers sit at desks and examine passports, and make sure the immigrants have employment lined up at their destinations — and enough pocket money to get there.

The immigration men speak several languages, and interpreters are available if the new Canadian has one of the less-familiar tongues.

THINGS STRANGE FOR IMMIGRANTS

Once past immigration, the immigrant picks up his hand-luggage and turns down a ramp, lined with long counters where customs men and women keep an eye out for dutiable items. Occasionally there's an attempt to sneak some forbidden valuable into the country, but in most cases attempted evasions are simply the result of ignorance or misunderstanding of this country's excise tax regulations.

The ramp leads to a ground floor railway station, built especially for handling dockside traffic. A battery of ticket windows dole out railway tickets to immigrants, and from the wicket the immigrant moves into a vast baggage room, where his trunks, bales, and heavy bags have been brought from the ship.

Customs officers are on hand to clear the heavy baggage, and railway officials arrange for its movement by express or freight to the new Canadian's destination.

Canteens of hot coffee and sandwiches, rest rooms with nurses to calm fretful babies and distraught mothers, are a few steps away, and ministers of several faiths are always on hand to give advice or simply a welcome to the New World.

Drawn up by the station are the special boat trains, not luxurious but comfortable, clean and well-serviced. Before leaving Europe, arrangements had been made for the new Canadian's train berth, ticket, and meals.

Within a few hours of the time the immigrant first sighted the rocky shores of Nova Scotia, his train puffs out of Halifax and he is on his way to a new life.

The people who have guided his first steps in Canada, from the dock of the ship through all the formalities to the train believe it couldn't be done more quickly in any port in North America.

For example, when the liner Volendam brought in 1,500 Dutch immigrants, stevedores moved 4,000 pieces of hand baggage and 240 tons of household equipment and other heavy baggage to three boat trains in less than 17 hours.

In one week-end, the CNR sent eight boat trains of 15 cars apiece out of the port with 2,500 new Canadians aboard.

Woman Confesses She Gypped Railway

WINNIPEG, Man. — (BUP) — D. Healy, regional treasurer of the Canadian National Railway, believes everybody is basically honest, and each week receives new evidence to support that belief.

"Conscience money" from persons who at one time or another defrauded the CNR in some minor way flows into Healy's office from across the country.

A woman who boarded a train at Arran, Sask., and rode to Saskatoon on a child's ticket in 1928 recently admitted she had been above the age limit for half fare, and sent the railway $4.60.

A note which accompanied the cheque said: "We are supposed to pay back fourfold, so I still owe you $13.80.

The same woman last year mailed a $40 cheque to the CNR because she rode from Saskatoon to Vancouver in 1939 on somebody else's ticket.

Healy said conscience payments had been on the upswing during the past two weeks. During that period, he had received five payments.

The largest cheque, for $200 came from Vancouver. A note attached said the money was for payment of a steamship ticket.

A man who said he "rode the rods" at one time sent $88.75, and "John Doe" in San Francisco sent $35.

ABIE NEWS NOTES

The Abee Girls' Club donated $10.00 to cancer funds.

The Abee ball club is off to a good start. They held their reoragnization meeting with John Mucha, manager; Mr. Priebe, coach; Bruce Earle, captain; Norman Bouton, secretary. They have purchased new uniforms for the coming season.

Earl Gives Up Castle For Ranch

A ranch south of Calgary won over a castle in England when Sir Frederick Perceval, 11th Earl of Egmont, known to his Albertan farmer neighbors as "Freddie," had to choose a life for himself and his family.

The story of Alberta's famous Earl receives national attention this week in a story in Maclean's Magazine It was in 1929 that his father became the 10th Earl and arriving in England, he was forced to sell the castle's family paintings to win the lawsuits launched by other claimants. They lived for a short time at the historic Avon Castle but the curse that had followed the family through every generation claimed its newest victim in the death of the Earl in an auto accident.

At 18, Freddie became the 11th Earl of Egmont and the family returned to Canada, settling near the MacLeod Trail. Since then the Earl of Alberta has more than once been in the news—this time for producing some of the best seed grain in Canada.

Herman Linder, World's Top Rodeo Rider Made Debut as 'Cow Girl' at Age 14

LETHBRIDGE, Alta.—BUP—From "cowgirl" to the world's top rodeo rider is the story of Alberta's Herman Linder.

When he was 14, Linder wouldn't talk about his "cowgirl" experience on a bet. But today, at 43, he looks on the adventure with a mellow humor and recalls it as one of the most celebrated instances of his life.

"I was 14 years old," he said recently, "and to fulfill the advertising of a girl in skirts riding a bronc, they put skirts over my leather chaps.'

"I was thrown right in front of the grandstand, and all I was anxious to do was to keep my face away from the crowd. A fellow who came to help me kept turning my face to the crowd, and I kept turning it away.

"Anyway, I must have looked like a girl, because there was quite an argument over letting a girl ride a bucking horse."

That was at Cardston, Alta., where Linder started riding bucking horses as a boy when he was 12, on the family's ranch. By the time he retired, at 32, he had won the top international honors of the rodeo world.

He was North American all-'round cowboy five times at the famous Calgary Stampede, and took the world's bucking title in New York. In between times, he rode at Tucson, Cheyenne, Denver, and every other city which featured big-time rodeos.

WON FIRST RODEO AT 16

He won his first rodeo at Cardston when he was 16, and the last, at Lewiston, Ida., when he was 32.

"I quit then," he said "because as in most sports, once a rodeo man hits 30, he's bound to start going down."

Linder's father, who turned handsprings at 60, was his big inspiration.

"Dad and his sons were always like a bunch of kids together," Linder said. "Dad helped build the chute and would open the gate for us."

Today he runs the big Linder ranch with his brother, Warner, but he hasn't lost his interest in rodeos.

He is president of the Canadian Stampede Manager's Association and vice-president of the International Rodeo Association of America.

Alberta Doctors Plan Confab

Alberta division of the Canadian Medical Association and the medical faculty of the University of Alberta will gather in Edmonton, April 30-May 5 for their annual refresher course.

It is expected more than 250 doctors will be in attendance. Subjects on the agenda include surgical practice. obstetrics and gynaecology, and internal medicine.

Dr. J. W. Macgregor, chairman of the group's committee on education, will be in charge of the gathering.

DRUNK DRIVERS are locked up and so are their cars. Police in Alberta are also keeping a close watch on speeders—55 were arrested on the Calgary-Edmonton highway near Red Deer last week. Here an officer locks a car to await tow truck while another constable escorts driver to police cruiser.

32,000 People Served By Rural Health Unit

People living in an area of 2,400 square miles, comprising a population of 32,000, are receiving medical service through the Edmonton Rural Health Unit.

Every month hundreds of families are visited, thousands of examinations and inspections are given, by a staff of 11 full-time workers.

Staff is headed by Dr. H. Siemens, medical officer of health.

Communities served include Beverly, Clover Bar, St. Albert, Morinville, Legal, Bon Accord, Egremont, Fort Saskatchewan, Gibbons, Devon, Nisku, Calmar, Leduc, and New Sarepta.

During 1950 the Service operated on a budget of $45,660, or an average of $1.20 per person. The budget was made up by $23,040 in provincial government grants, and $22,620 in local grants from municipalities.

Rubella was the most prevalent communicable disease treated in the area during 1950, followed by mumps and chicken pox. In all there were 934 cases of communicable disease.

There were five cases of polio, none of them highly serious.

Infant mortality was quite low, with 28 reaths out of 901 births.

There were over 1,300 children examined by the medical health officer during the year.

There were 196 deaths reported in the area during 1950.

Sanitation inspections were carried on throughout the area. Incidentally, there are 39 restaurants operating in the area, and only one was closed last year by the Health Service. It is now operating under new management.

Town of Morinville made the greatest progress in respect to garbage disposal. Gibbons, Devon and Morinville are said to be the only communities in the area where reasonable garbage conditions are being maintained.

There are three milk pasteurizing plants in the area, and 96 per cent of the milk sold in the area is pasteurized.

Health education was carried on throughout the area through public meetings, addresses before various clubs, showing of films, and other mediums.

Junior Grain Club Shown A Rat

Junior Grain Club members who attended the April 10 meeting of their club in Ellscott now know a rat when they see one. District Agriculturist G. Godel, guest speaker, brought one, well preserved in a sealer, to the meeting.

The preserved rat illustrated and made vivid Mr. Godel's talk on the control of rats and gophers and the upkeep of the club. He also showed pamphlets which could be obtained through him and spoke on signing the petition for the Tb and Bang free area along with the Pure Bred Sire area.

Field Supervisor, H. Armfelt, also a guest speaker, spoke about road conditions and the necessity of preserving the soil and planting trees to prevent soil erosion.

Lunch was served and games played at the end of the meeting.

A dance will be neld in the Ellscott hall on April 20 sponsored by the Junior Grain Club.

The regular meeting of the Junior Club will be held April 24.

Sewing Circle Plans May Dance Here

PINE KNOLL.—At the next meeting the Sewing Circle will decide the exact day of the dance which they planned for early May. The proceeds will be used for their Achievement Day.

With all the men who came home since last Friday, the district is very lively and businesslike. The men who returned since May 6 are Mr. W. Hull, Mr. J. Basaraba, Mr. B. Drebit, and Sambo (Mr. B. Semeluk).

Mr. Hull will again tour the country in his convertible 'Leaping Lena' along with Mr. Moldowan in his 'Down-to-Eearth' cabless.

Mrs. J. Basaraba took a trip to Edmonton, where Mr. and Mrs. B. Drebit and Mr. and Mrs. J. Basaraba spent an enjoyable evening dancing at the Palace Garden on April 4. The district residents are looking forward to learn the 'Grasshopper Dance' from them.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Eliuk and daughter are visiting her parents Mr. and Mrs. Eli Basaraba, and friends of the district. Miss Isabel Semeluk is now home from Bellis where she worked for a couple of years.

Escorts Buy Ladies' Pies

WASKATENAU. — The Home and School held a card party on April 13. First prizes were won by Mrs. A. Hawrelak and Mr. L. Scott. Mrs. R. Clark and Mr. G. Shapka received consolation prizes. The evening proved such a pleasant one that it was decided to hold another card party on April 20.

A novel idea for lunch is being tried out. Each lady will bring a pie which will be purchased by one of the gentlemen and presumably eaten by both.

WHERE DOES THE MONEY GO ?

At times most of us have looked at purse, wallet or bankbook, and wondered: "Where does the money go?"
You may have wondered, too, where does our money go—the money we receive for gasoline, fuel oil, lubricants and other products we sell. Well, last year each dollar we received went this way:

CRUDE OIL and the other raw materials we bought took half of each dollar.

OPERATING AND ADMINISTRATIVE expenses took more than 25 cents. This was the cost of searching for and producing crude oil, and of manufacturing and marketing the hundreds of products we supplied for thousands of uses. Throughout the year high quality products were made available where and when you needed them.

TRANSPORTATION of products from our refineries to marketing points took the next big bite of the dollar. Products moved over wide areas to serve every community in Canada.

TAXES to provincial and federal governments took 7.64 cents. And this did not include gasoline tax which—depending on where you live—took from 22 to 33 cents out of every dollar you spent for standard grade gasoline.

TO REPLACE worn out equipment and to make sure that we can supply your needs in the future took 3.59 cents.

DIVIDENDS paid to shareholders for use of plants and equipment amounted to 3.45 cents.

Men No Help to Women Buying Summer Clothes

Females who have sheckles to spend on a spring and summer wardrobe might take note of the opinions of a visiting Montreal couturier recently on business in the city.

First of all, milady ought to go on her shopping spree unaccompanied by the male species, Mr. Martin Taub suggested. The man always, or most always, puts a crimp in the lady's style when it comes to choosing something chic, he feels. Besides, it's not at all necessary and can be quite embarrassing.

A man will buy according to his needs, possibly replenishing his wardrobe with a suit to replace one of a particular color which has seen better days. But the lady buys according to her taste, and of course what happens to be fashion-wise at the moment, something the male may not be aware of until it's paraded before his very eyes, says Mr. Taub.

And if the dress or suit has a ticket on it for a few dollars more than she planned the lady is likely to choose it anyway if it's what she wants. Should she be "weighted down" by an accomplice in the deal, she would be more likely to haggle over the price and perhaps decide on something cheaper and less attractive.

"I think it's absolutely ridiculous for a man to help a woman choose her outfit. And if I were a married man going in to buy a suit I wouldn't want to take a woman with me to help me choose, it'd drive me nuts," declared the young Montrealer.

Despite the apparent fondness of ladies for pastel colors in summer, "Black still covers a multitude of sins, especially in the 'hippy' woman," Mr. Taub said. Sales records prove that women who prefer better-styled dresses favor black, navy and tans, even for summer wear, he stated.

The summery touch could easily be added by wearing light colored accessories.

Among the more popular fabrics for this year's wear are pure silk shantung, Irish linen, cotton lace and printed sheers, Mr. Taub said. For the traveller, pure silk is the best bet in crush-resistant fabrics.

Mr. Taub comes from a family well versed in the dress business for his father and an uncle each have been manufacturing dresswear for Canadians fo the past 25 yeas.

War Alone Will Necessitate Price Controls in Canada

OTTAWA—(BUP)—There will be no price controls for Canada unless and until another war breaks out.

That is the government's way of thinking on the subject, it was learned reliably on Parliament Hill at the end of a week during which heavy pressure for price controls was expected.

Advocating price controls to combat inflation were all three opposition parties in three days of debate that is not yet ended.

At the same time the four major Canadian labor organizations, representing more than 1,000,000 members, interviewed Prime Minister St. Laurent and pressed for the same objective.

During the week the budget address of Finance Minister Abbott and a speech by Trade Minister Howe made it clear the government is, nevertheless, against price controls as a method to halt the rising cost of living.

Mr. St. Laurent told delegates of the Canadian Congress of Labor that it would cost at least $400,000,000 annually to roll back prices through consumer subsidies and set up a system of price ceilings.

Reliable information now is that the government does not believe inflation will get out of hand immediately. Therefore there will be no price ceilings imposed.

Only if a war should break out and the government's military budget should shoot sky-high would inflation present a real danger, Finance Minister Abbott and his advisors are said to feel.

Then increased military spending would mean increased employment and higher wages, along with a shortage of consumer goods. This would spell inflationary prices.

In that event the government would recognize price controls as necessary, say Ottawa authorities.

At the same time, it is pointed out, the government would impose wage controls at the same time as price ceilings.

Ukrainian Bard Commemorated

THORHILD. — A concert of Ukrainian music, sponsored by the Ukrainian Greek Orthodox Ladies' Aid was held April 15.

The performance, given in the Thorhild hall in the afternoon was to commemorate Taras Shewchanko. This great Ukrainian poet, who died nearly one hundred years ago, has been honored all over Canada this month wherever there are Ukrainian people.

Musical numbers were contributed by persons from Radway and

Bounties Offered On Wolves, Cougars, Birds

The provincial government will pay $10,000 to the Alberta Fish and Game Association toward the cost of bounty payments on birds classed as pests, it was stated Monday at the legislative building. Bounties for the bird pests, and for timber wolves and cougars also were announced.

Bounty payments for the feet of goshawks, horned owls and snowy owls will be 25 cents a pair These bounties will only be paid for birds killed this month. Bounties to be paid for the feet of crows and magpies will be five cents a pair.

Residents of Alberta may collect $15 bounty for each cougar taken in the province, exclusive of national parks. Alberta residents also will be paid bounties of $15 for each timber wolf taken between April 1 and Sept. 30, and will be paid bounties of $12 for each timber wolf taken between Oct. 1 and March 31.

Applications for wolf and cougar bounties may be made through the R.C.M.P., justices of the peace, commissioners for oaths, or game and forestry officers. The ears of each pelt must be intact upon presentation. The ears then will be split from tip to base by the person receiving the bounty application, and the pelt will be returned to the applicant. Persons holding valid licenses to deal in animals pelts or furs shall be eligible to make application for timber wolf or cougar bounties.

The LIGHTER SIDE

What a Life!

Mother had her numerous offspring out shopping, and as they waited for a bus she began to tell them a story to keep the peace.

"One time I was in the middle of the jungle," she said warily, "and I looked up to see a tiger only a few feet away. I tried to run, but with a bound it was on me and I was struck down dead."

"But it couldn't have. You're still alive," protested several of the children.

A weary glance swept the family as mother closed her eyes and replied, "You call this living?"

Guarding Her Luck

Just outside the domestic science classroom, the pretty young student paused to pick up a rusty pin. Whereupon her teacher, who had been walking behind her, exclaimed:

"My goodness! You don't believe in such silly superstitions as that, do you?"

"I'm afraid I do," the girl replied. And then, glimpsing an expression of horror on her instructor's face, she added reassuringly:

"But you don't need to worry, Miss Wilson. I always sterilize them when I get home!"

Good Reason

"It says here that he was shot by his wife at very close range."

"Then there must have been powder marks on him."

"Yes — that's why she shot him."

Quite an Idea

"I'm all out of sorts. The doctor said the only way to cure my rheumatism was to keep away from all dampness."

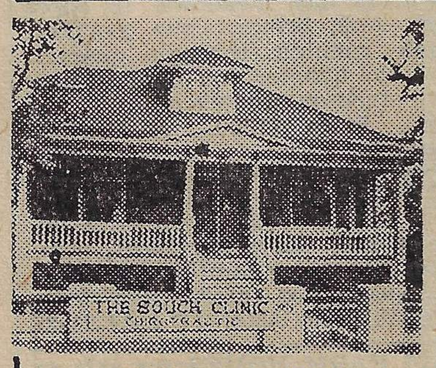

"What's so tough about that?"

"You don't know how silly it makes me feel to sit in an empty bath and go over myself with a vacuum cleaner."

LETTER TO LOUISA

Wife Shouldn't Neglect Home in Favor of Clubs

DEAR LOUISA—I recently moved to a new town and I have done everything I know to meet the people and become a part of the community life.

I had no trouble in doing this as the people here are very friendly.

My only trouble now is that I am involved in too many things. In fact, I feel that I am leglecting my home and children to do a great many unnecessary things. I am called on to canvass for one organization, fix flowers for another, talk to another, get up refreshments for a S. S. picnic, correct papers for a contest, etc., etc.

I don't want these people to think I am a flash in the pan and run out when the work is to be done but I simply have to slow down. How can I cut out one without cutting out all?

NEWCOMER.

Answer:

Just explain your situation to your new friends and tell them that you will work with the P. T . A. this year and the Garden Club next or vice versa, but that you will be a divorced woman with juvenile delinquents on your hands if you keep on as you have started.

Probably, all the club work you are doing is worthwhile but a woman's first responsibility is her family and they should some first. You will have a great deal of time to do community work when your children are older and many women, at that time, fill the void left by their children leaving home, doing community work.

Remember too that most people have a tendency to work a "willing horse to death," so don't feel that you have to accept every assignment that is given you.

LOUISA.

Dear Louisa—My little son will be in the second grade next year. He seems to me to have an amazing fund of general knowledge and I was much surprised when his teacher wrote on his report card that he was "slow to learn."

Do you think that she could be right?

MOTHER.

Answer:

Most of us think our children are brighter than they are but, on the other hand, teachers often make mistakes. One of the great Einstein's teachers rated him as "mentally slow" and "adrift, in foolish dreams" so I shouldn't let one teacher's opinion worry me.

Some children find it hard to learn to read — their eyes may be at fault — but are exceptionally smart in other ways. Perhaps his teacher did not make school interesting enough for him to exert himself.

LOUISA.

A BETTER DEAL FOR INDIANS

By HENRY THOMPSON

Indian Affairs under a new Department of Citizenship and Immigration made giant strides towards education of far flung Indian tribes in the North. The big, modern Day School at Goodfish Lake is an example of what is being done in other areas of Canada.

The Indian Act has remained nearly static since its inception in 1876. Canada's participation in world organization caught us with a home problem of backward people. The Parliamentary Committee of 1946 revealed some unpleasant facts, and action since towards education has been remarkable, in the light of previous record. A new Act is before Parliament this session. It is hoped that this Act will provide solutions for problems economic, social and financial, that require adjusting to present-day needs.

However, I do not believe that Legislature alone will effectively remove existing causes of the wide disparity in economic conditions of the Indian as compared with his white neighbor in adjoining settlements. Ground level study of each reserve potential to fit into the market requirements of their respective localities will be necessary. Some drastic changes in management and attitude of those responsible for administration of the Act in reserve agencies.

Appointees to Indian agency positions are not required to have any special training. A recommendation from the Constituency organization of that party in power in Ottawa is apparently the only requisite. The Indian Chief or Council have no say in these qualifications and any individual objection, endangers a loss of those few privileges open under the Act.

Indian Department policy has lagged behind in adjustments to modern farming methods, have failed to develop plans in agriculture that are of primary importance to choice farm lands of Beaver Lake, Goodfish and Saddle Lake reserves. Progress on less choice arable land in surrounding districts, where practically every quarter section is mechanized and nearly all the owners of independent means, makes a bad contrast for Indian Affairs managment.

Education and health are important but benefits will be wasted if economic conditions are not brought to a level with their neighbors. Their rich soils can provide their independent livelihood in excess of their white neighbors under proper direction. The millstone of taxes and medical costs need not impede their progress as these are guaranteed in the treaties. In matters of education the reverse system has had to be followed. The settler worked out his farm development first and gave his children higher education as his means improved.

The hamlet of Spedden, sandwiched between two reserves, had its beginning some twenty-five years ago on heavy bush rolling land, not comparable in fertility to the open prairie lands of Saddle Lake. Spedden claims 46 teachers in that period. Several other of its students have won distinction in Grain World Fairs. Many have gained enviable positions in business and our Member of Parliament for Beaver River, Harry Lobay, got his ABC'S in that district. Education for Indians under the former residential church schools are a failure viewed from this fine record.

What is urgently needed is a policy of development of Indian lands by Indian labor for Indian benefit, to bring the virgin soils of these reserves into greater production :thus secure the economic independence of of these people comparable to their white neighbors. No real effort has been made to organize Indian labor to this end. This pool of labor has been exploited by adjoining settlements. Indians have contributed a great deal to progress of outside districts. Indian axes have cleared roads and hundreds of acres of bush land. Provided cheap labor during the summer months and handy help for busy harvesting seasons. Hundreds of acres of lush grass fed outside stock, while the Indian worked hard for a small wage to gain a meagre subsistance.

The old excuse that Indians could not or would not adapt themselves to agricultural pursuits is all rot. The Indian of today is as adaptable and trustworthy as any class of labor given the same wages. He is as energetic in sport and as capable of driving tractors or cars as any youth of the settlements.

Proceeds from Indian land sold to Irish immigrants in the St. Brides district could have been used to provide financial aid to advance progressive farming by the Indian on his own land. The plan worked out to assist the immigrant get successfully established on his land, could have been used to the same advantage for the Indian by Indian Department officials.

Surely some common system can be devised to establish all able and capable Indians to achieve some measure of economic independence on farm lands that are without exception the best in their respective districts. Walking plow farming can not be forced on settlement youths. Why continue with the Indian and expect success?

Mechanical equipment now under proper management and direction of the Agency, with the assistance of trained agriculturists to replace the so-called farm instructors would ensure immediate results far beyond everything obtained to date.

Boards of Trade organizations of the towns of Lac la Biche, St. Paul and the villages of Ashmont, Spedden and Vilna who are directly concerned by low production of these large areas so close to their towns, might well benefit themselves by conference with Indian leaders with these objectives in mind. Personal knowledge and acquaintance with selective members on the reserves through years of business dealing could be invaluable in formulating views to present to Members of Parliament and the Government, while the trend to Indian help at Government levels is still keen.

Canuck Says Russia Is 'Land of Myths'

OTTAWA, Ont.—(BUP)—There is an inner curtain behind the iron curtain, a Canadian who spent two years in Moscow reported on his return home.

Randall called the country a land of myths. The inner curtain, he said, hides a scene quite different from that painted for the outside world by the Soviets.

"On Moscow streets," he said, "the people look bored. You never see anyone laughing. You never see two people standing and talking. You never see any hustle. They shamble along in apathy."

CONSUMER GOODS VERY SCARCE

Yet they work hard and their factories are geared to provide "a powerful military machine for world conquest."

Consumer goods like frigidaires, toasters and cars, are taboo. Automobiles come in two styles—military trucks and staff cars for commissars.

Food is very expensive. Even the Canadian Embassy imported 50 per cent of its provisions from Canada and Denmark.

"We would have imported all our food, but Soviet regulations compelled us to buy a considerable amount in Moscow stores,' said Randall. "If we'd had to buy it all, it would have been fabulously expensive."

Most of the city's residents live in wooden shacks, he said. In the few modern apartment buildings, the average occupancy was five persons to a room with communal cooking facilities in the halls.

"Top-ranking Communists," he said, "enjoyed better things." "They could buy meat, eggs, and vegetables at prices which limited their consumption to the highest levels. Ordinary people lived on black bread and potato soup."

He warned that in spite of these disparities, the secret police, the political "thought control" groups, and the lowered living standards, the Soviets are a powerful military force.

"We must fear them, even though they don't appear able to match our productive capacity," he said. "And we must never forget that part of their plan is to destroy every other form of government. That is regarded as essential to the continued existence of communism in power."

Modern methods of merchandising which reduce costs of distribution are the consumer's best defence against the rising cost of living.

FLT. LIEUT. O. LEVESQUE is first Canadian to win a U.S. decoration in Korean war. He was awarded an air medal for combat missions against Russian-built jet planes. A Quebecer, he's serving with USAF.

Attention! Profit-Seeking Lumbermen!
When you're thinking "WHAT KIND OF A HORSE SHOULD I BUY" you consider the application . . . A RACE HORSE FOR THE TRACK OR A DRAFT HORSE FOR HEAVY WORK.
Likewise with HORSEPOWER; BUY aircraft engines for aeroplanes, automotive engines for cars and trucks . . . they are tops in the field . . . but in a tough production job, get a HEAVY DUTY INDUSTRIAL ENGINE. There's a big difference, and here's why: Just as with horses, the various requirements are so different that each type is developed to provide the ultimate results demanded for the specific application. One master type just won't do all the jobs.
Don't be misled. Don't buy "too little — too light." Saw milling in a tough industrial application. It calls for rugged, heavy duty industrial power . . . Herculean effort . . . Hercules power . . . your "key" to increased profits through maximum continuous production.
Hercules heavy duty diesel power units consistently "saw out" lumber for an expenditure of 20c or less (operating costs for fuel or oil) per thousand board feet of lumber produced. Can you match this?
Your initial capital investment is a very small proportion of the money you will spend over several operating seasons. If your production is lowered and, or made more costly through insufficient power — too light power — misapplied power . . . then your total loss will far exceed any temporary saving.
You can obtain a DFX series Hercules heavy duty diesel, rated up to 200 h.p. (continuous service at 1,600 R.P.M.) for less money than any comparably rated engine.

Many Have TB Without Knowing It

It has been found that many people have at some time in their lives suffered from tuberculosis without suspecting it. Their recovery was due to favorable circumstances or to otherwise good health, but those cases could so easily have developed into serious proportions. The only safeguard against tuberculosis striking and gaining a hold is to have regular chest X-rays, whereby the disease may be detected and treatment started in its earliest stages.

Census To Count 730,000 Farmers

Beginning on June 1 this year a census enumerator will visit each of the 730,000 farms in Canada to obtain answers to a series of questions about the farm. The last census of agriculture for all Canada was taken in 1941 and for the Prairie Provinces in 1946. Many farmers will therefore have had previous experience in answering questions on the agricultural schedule, but for some it will be the first experience.

SUB-LOCAL SETS TRACK MEET DATE, ORGANIZING COMMITTEE NOMINATED

The Smoky Lake local of the ATA held its April meeting at Warspite on Thursday, April 12. Attendance was not up to par due to road conditions.

Plans for a track meet was the main subject under discussion. Date for the meet was set as May 25. P. Klufas, M. Sokolowsky and H. Holowaychuk were nominated to act as an organization committee.

Mr. Filawich gave an account of the activities of the arbitration board.

After adjournment the Warspite members served lunch.

Clubs Become Active Again

RADWAY. — The next regular meeting of the Radway Lions club will be held on Tuesday, April 17. The nominating committee will present a proposed set of new officers to take office for one year.

As the Radway Athletic club has not been very active of late, an effort will be made to reorganize at a meeting this week. It is hoped that the high school boys will take an active part in the administration of the RAC.

Nick Prusak now has his new Ford and is practising driving in his spare time.

Peter Romanisky is sporting a 1941 Packard which he purchased in Calgary. He has been coming home week-ends with it.

Harry Dombroskys had two carloads of visitors and relatives from Edmonton at the week-end.

Mr. and Mrs. E. Stashuk and children visited at the Watsons on Sunday. Mr. Stashuk is section foreman at Vilna.

Mrs. Dave Kozak has undergone an operation at the Mayo clinic in Rochester, and we are glad to report that she is doing well. She is expected home the first week in May.

An old landmark in the village, Cook's Garage, has been sold t John Kozoway. He has torn it down and removed the lumber to his farm. Mr. N. Cook was in Radway for two days renewing old acquaintances.

The windstorm of last Thursday did not do much damage. John Litwin had a pane of glass blown in on his garage. One local phone went out of order.

Young Garry Nestransky had the misfortune to fall down a flight of steps going into the basement. He suffered only light bruises to his head.

Mr. Paul Mersky, formerly of Radway, injured his ankle in a fall at his place of business in Edmonton.

District Couple Wed In Edmonton

THORHILD—A pretty wedding took place Tuesday, April 3, in Central Lutheran Church, Edmonton, when Marlen e Gunderson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. Gunderson of Thorhild, formerly of Provost, became the bride of Mr. Oscar Paulgaard, son of Mr. and Mrs. Gus Paulgaard of Provost. Rev. T. W. Maakstad officiated.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a navy blue two-piece dress with white accessories, and a corsage of yellow roses.

Miss Shirley Gunderson, sister of the bride, was bridesmaid, and her dress was navy blue, with pale blue accessories, and wore a corsage of red roses.

Norman Larsen, of Provost, was best man. The bride's mother was dressed in a grey suit with white and pink accessories. Her corsage was of pink carnations. The groom's mother wore a navy suit with pink and grey accessories, and also wore a corsage of pink carnations.

At a reception in the Corona Hotel the table was centred with a three-tiered wedding cake. Mr. Al. Larsen proposed a toast to the bride.

The couple left for a short motor trip to Calgary, and on their return will reside on the groom's farm near Provost.

Cod are perhaps the most important of all marine resources of Quebec's Ungava Bay from the point of view of possible development as an Eskimo fishery.
